The Support and Information Line is a telephone service which is part of the ongoing development of the Wellness and Recovery Centre at St Patrick's University Hospital Dublin.

It provides information on all aspects of Mental Health and is staffed by experienced Mental Health Nurses.

It is a support service for clients having attended St Patrick's in the past.

It is an information service for the general public on mental health services both in St. Patrick's and elsewhere.

It is an information resource for other health care professionals.
